

Fellow in the National Pharmaceutical Association

FNPhA Application Guidelines

Fellowship in the National Pharmaceutical Association is awarded to pharmacists who have made sustained contributions to the Association and who have demonstrated exceptional performance in serving the medically underserved.

I. Purposes

NPhA's FNPhA Recognition Program serves the following purposes:

- a. foster and honor demonstrated excellence in serving the medically underserved; and
- b. grant recognition and promote awareness of pharmacists who have distinguished themselves within NPhA.

II. Authority

The FNPhA Recognition Program is conducted under the authority of the NPhA Board of Directors. The Board shall approve all criteria, rules, and regulations pertaining to the operation of the Recognition Program.

III. Governance

The program shall be administered by the FNPhA Selection Committee, which shall have the following specific responsibilities with respect to the FNPhA Program:

- a. to provide quality assurance for the program;
- b. to review and approve recognition eligibility criteria;
- c. to serve as the applicant screening committee;
- d. to recommend to the Board of Directors any future changes in these Guidelines.

IV. Recognition Criteria

Minimum Eligibility Requirements for Application:

- a. Current full or life member of NPhA and sustained, continuous membership for at least ten (10) years;
- b. At least ten (10) years of professional service in serving the medically underserved. For the purposes of this program, ten years starts from the time of initial pharmacist licensure and can include a residency or fellowship period; and
- c. A record of outstanding service to the profession through contribution to NPhA

Additional Eligibility Requirements for Application:

In addition to the minimum eligibility requirements, there are other criteria that determine eligibility for Fellowship. These are not mutually exclusive of the above minimum criteria. Candidates are accepted for Fellowship based upon demonstration of minimum eligibility requirements and a combination of the following criteria:

1. Demonstration of sustained commitment or contributions to excellence in serving the medically underserved. Interpretation

In fulfilling this criterion, it is expected that the level of demonstrated contribution reflect commitment and excellence in serving the medically underserved. The candidate must provide sufficient documentation that a level of excellence has been achieved through sustained contributions to serving the medically underserved. The following may be submitted as evidence that the candidate has an excellent record of contributions:

- Development, implementation, or enhancement of systems or programs that resulted in an improved service to the medically underserved;
- Conceptualization of new or improved practice methods and models;
- Examples of sustained achievement in providing patient care services;
- Research that made a positive impact on cultural influences on patient care, improving health literacy, reducing health disparities, or service to the medically underserved; or
- Since it is recognized that these factors are not the exclusive basis upon which to determine excellence, other evidence that addresses this criterion may be considered.

2. Contribution to the total body of knowledge in serving the medically underserved.

Interpretation

The following may be submitted as evidence that the candidate has a record of contributing to the total body of knowledge in pharmacy practice; specifically on cultural influences on patient care, improving health literacy, reducing health disparities, or service to the medically underserved.

- Publication of scientific or professional papers on relevant topics in Referenced journals (coauthor is acceptable); or
- Publication of a textbook or several chapters in a textbook(s) on some relevant aspect of pharmacy.

3. Involvement in and commitment to educating practitioners, student pharmacists, and others.

Interpretation

Each candidate must be actively involved in educational programs. The following may be submitted as evidence that the candidate has met the criteria:

- Making presentations to practitioners at national, regional, or state educational conferences;
- Precepting students or residents;
- Mentoring staff;
- Educating and training technicians; or Educating the public.

4. Demonstration of active involvement and leadership in NPhA, NPhA Foundation, and other professional organizations.

Interpretation

Candidate must support the profession as evidenced by a record of consistent and active involvement and leadership in NPhA. In addition, involvement in other voluntary, professional, organizations may be considered. Some examples of activities in which a candidate may have participated are as follows:
